2018-19 School Year

What are the Goals of Title I this school year?

- Increase student academic performance in Mathematics
- Enhance parents’ abilities to help their children succeed through quality parental involvement activities.

Funding Received: $4,120 – 100% allocate to after school math tutoring program for extended day staffing and teaching aids.

Title I Parental Involvement

AAI recognizes that parental involvement is the key to student academic achievement. When parents are involved in their child’s education, their attitudes, behaviors, and achievements, of students are positively enhanced. Parents and families provide the primary educational environment for children; consequently, parents are vital and necessary partners with the schools throughout their children’s school career.

Parents are encouraged and welcome to volunteer in classrooms in a variety of capacities. We have an active Parent Group (Ignite) providing multiple opportunities for parents to become involved.

Parents will be given useful information on their child’s progress including Utah’s SAGE test results; professional formal/informal assessments and observations, and a daily work progress twice a year during parent-teacher conferences. In addition, they will be advised as to how to use this information to help improve their child’s academic performance.

Program Details

AAI has a targeted assistance program providing services to eligible children who have been identified as having the greatest need for special academic assistance.

AAI shall comply with all state and federal requirements in developing, implementing, administering and evaluating funded compensatory programs for students determined to be at risk.

A public meeting will be held annually to inform parents of the programs and activities provided with Title I funds and to discuss and work collaboratively with parents to evaluate and modify the program as needed.

AAI shall use Title I funds only to supplement and to supplant non-Title I education funds.

Programs especially designed for migrant children shall be provided as necessary.
What is Title I?
Title I is a US Department of Education program that provides funding for improving academic achievement for economically disadvantaged, low-achieving students. AAI uses these funds to provide additional academic support and enrichment opportunities to students to help them master the academic curriculum and to meet state standards in core academic subjects.

School Wide Program Parent Involvement
AAI involves the parents of our students to plan enrichment opportunities and interventions that will help students meet improvement goals by providing notification of:

- Teacher and Paraprofessional Qualifications
- Non-Highly Qualified Teachers
- School Progress (such as SAGE/State testing scores)
- Annual School Report Cards with all subgroup data
- Individual Student Progress
- Title I Plan
- Opportunities for Homeless Students
- Programs/support available for English Language Learners
- Safe and Drug Free School issues
- How to resolve concerns

“Highly Qualified” Teachers and Paraprofessionals
All personnel working in Title I programs must meet the criteria to be considered “highly qualified”. For teachers, this means they must have at least a Bachelor’s Degree, full state certification and must have passed a competency test in their areas of instruction. Instructional assistants must have a minimum of two years of college or pass a competency exam in Language Arts and Math.
